Students, educators and performers continue to search for shortcuts to improvisation, but there are none. It takes many hours and a dedicated, disciplined, practice routine to be able to improvise. That being said, it is not a foregone conclusion that learning to improvise couldn't be made easier with the proper guidance and appropriate resource.

Santorella's Jazz Improvisation series, Know Before You Blow is the answer!

Anyone interested in improvisation spends countless hours of listening to every jazz artist that has established themselves as one of the best at their craft. Many beginning jazz players focus on musicians who play the same instrument, but it is strongly suggested to listen to every jazz great, no matter what axe is in their hands.

Many great jazz players take time off from performance to practice alone and rethink their improvisational techniques. In short, daily disciplined practice or Woodshedding is a self imposed exile which every musician must endure in order to reach their true potential and Know Before You Blow makes that daily exile a truly beneficial learning experience. The method is simple, thanks to the authors Chris Tedesco, Laura & Emile De Cosmo and the guidance provided by the finest studio musicians in Los Angeles.

This break-through “Music + One”™ approach is now offered to all musicians as an essential resource for improving their ability to improvise. All seven modes are clearly defined and explained on the text pages which precede each of the exercise including the compatible chords that “work” for that particular mode.

Know Before You Blow is written in accommodating keys for Clarinet, Flute, Trumpet, Trombone, Alto Sax, Tenor Sax and also includes a Conductor's Score that contains a recording of all six horns playing together in unison. This is a phenomenal tool for every music educator for any ensemble at any level.

Imagine no more guess work to determine which mode works and why or what to play & when. This “Jazz Modes” edition teaches what, why and when to play a certain jazz mode. This is the “Heart & Soul” concept of “Know Before You Blow”. So, “Now's The Time” to break out your horn and have some fun!
